

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS / APPLICATION FORMALITIES MASTER

Those who are interested in the master course of study fashion design at the Trier University of Applied Sciences can apply for the summer and for the winter semester.

Admission requirement to the master course of study is a diploma or bachelor degree in fashion design or in a comparable design degree program with at least a "B" grade as well as knowledge of the English language or comparable knowledge in another language. The application for the admission in the summer semester has to be submitted at the examination office of the Trier University of Applied Sciences until December 1st and for the winter semester until June 1st of the respective year.

For the form of the written application the guidelines of the examination office apply. The application has to be submitted in due time and has to include the following documents:

- the filled out online application of the Trier University of Applied Sciences
- a curriculum vitae,
- proof of undergraduate degree, through certificate/report cards,
- proof of the required 210 ECTS - points,
- the master's synopsis, which demonstrates the motivation to start a master course of study in media design at the Trier University of Applied Sciences,
- bank transfer of the processing fee. The amount will be refunded if the application is rejected.

MASTER'S SYNOPSIS:

The application will have to present his/her professional and personal reasons for why he/she aspires to participate in the master degree program at the Trier University of Applied Sciences. This letter of motivation should not exceed two DIN A4 pages.

The Department of Fashion Design only accepts digital data mediums in the form of CD-ROM if its content cannot be submitted in printed form. In the case of digital data mediums content, description, technical notes and booklet have to be enclosed.

The complete application documents will be sent back to the applicant.

SELECTION PRECEDURE:

The selection is made in an interview. The interview takes place either in January or in July of each year. Suitable applicants will receive a written invitation. Suitability is then decided by the committee for qualifying examinations of the Department of Fashion Design based on the required documents. In the interview the applicant has to present a portfolio with his/her own work which will provide the necessary information in regard to the qualification. The motivation expressed in the master's synopsis should be convincingly presented during the interview. The selection of suitable candidates is then made by the committee for qualifying examinations of the Department of Fashion Design.